

Nila went to the Casino!

If you've talked to Nila this week, you've probably already heard all about her weekend.

And if you haven't...

Well, she'll probably tell you soon.

With the biggest smile on her face, Nila has been sharing story after story about her trip to Spirit Mountain Casino with her staff, Nayely. You can tell it wasn't just another outing—it was one of those days that sticks with you.

The adventure started with a delicious meal. Nila enjoyed a warm bowl of clam chowder before heading to the casino floor, where the lights, sounds, and excitement were waiting. She settled into her favorite slot machine, ready to see if Lady Luck was feeling generous.

Whether the machines paid out or not almost doesn't matter.

What mattered was the joy on her face.

The photos say it better than words ever could. There's a look that only comes from someone who is exactly where they want to be, doing something they truly enjoy. That's Nila.

It's easy to think community inclusion is about going places. But really, it's about honoring people's interests and helping them enjoy the same experiences many of us look forward to. For Nila, that meant a trip to the casino, a good meal, a little excitement, and sharing the day with someone who was just as happy to be there with her.

By Monday morning, everyone at CHI knew Nila had been to the casino.

Not because she won a jackpot...

...but because she couldn't stop smiling.

And honestly, we think that's an even better payoff.
